NORTH ETOBICOKE

Community Services Directory

The City of Toronto's Neighbourhood Action (NAP) initiative is a partnership between local residents, governments, community agencies, faith communities and businesses that creates stronger, safer and healthier neighbourhoods. Together we build on and develop new opportunities for residents with a focus on racialized youth.

As a partner of NAP, North Etobicoke Local Immigration Partnership is a partnership of local organizations and groups, with Rexdale Women's Centre as trustee, which is generously funded by the Citizenship and Immigration Canada. Partners include local residents, community organizations, city agencies, elected officials, local businesses, etc. Together we aim for North Etobicoke to be a community where newcomers feel they can settle, adapt and integrate.

This directory is designed to help recent immigrants and local residents easily and quickly find the services relevant to their lives in North Etobicoke. Some programs or contact information may change over time; we strongly recommend making a phone call and scheduling an appointment before you go. If you find any incorrect information in this directory, please contact North Etobicoke Local Immigration Partnership office at 416-745-0062, ext. 401.

Your feedback and suggestions are always welcome.

Children's Services

Child care plays a vital role in the lives of many of Toronto's families. Child care is needed when parents are working or attending schools. A licensed child care program provides a variety of play and learning activities that enhance a child's development and prepares them for school. Besides child care, there are agencies providing after-school programs and community initiatives with a focus on children's services in North Etobicoke.

Elected Representatives

On a typical day an elected representative receives phone calls and a score of letters from electors with regard to the works of three levels of government. Generally, at the federal level, welfare, farming, financial problems and immigration issues are covered. At the provincial level, social assistance, driver's licensing and health care issues are covered. At the municipal level, issues related to libraries, property tax, water, waste management, transit and snow removal are covered. (Source: maytree.com)

Employment Services

Many community agencies provide employment services for newcomers and residents. Some services can help you with one-on-one advice and help to create your résumé and cover letter and to find local companies. Others have more structured programs where you spend some time in a group classroom finding out about how to work in your career here. It is useful to know that you can find many services to help you find work. (Source: settlement.org)

Legal Services include advice and legal information, referrals to lawyers in practice, client representation before courts or administrative tribunals, such as the Social Benefits Tribunal, public legal education, and legal advice for tenants facing eviction. Community legal clinics can give you free or low-cost legal advice on employment or financial aid problems and home rental problems. In most cases, you must live in the area a clinic serves in order to use its services and you must meet certain low income requirements. (Source: settlement.org)
